THE COURT: Catherine Musall, 22-0098. Time and place set for a Status Check.

We'll ask Ms. Boskovich to brief the record for us. I have them both in front of me; so I'm prepared.

MS. BOSKOVICH: Thank you. Your Honor, I did reach out to the State -- well, I sent an email last week, but I had a discussion -- brief discussion with Mr. Richardson this morning. The two evaluations that we had done on Ms. Musall indicates that she is unable to assist counsel and meet the competency requirements. And based on the diagnosis, it's unlikely that she will regain competency. Based on that, I do note that there's a lot of moving parts here. There is a DCFS case that is --

THE COURT: My next question.

MS. BOSKOVICH: -- yeah, that's open as well. It's still up in the air what's going to happen as far as that DCFS case is going. There's a few different things going on. But I do know if this criminal matter is disposed of, it will make things a lot easier on the DCFS side; so I ask the State if they would be willing to dismiss this case. It is a Child Abuse case related to the child that's in question with DCFS. He's still in the home with her. He's been in the home with her this entire time. So I don't think it's necessarily as serious as the State originally thought when they filed it. Quite frankly, I wouldn't be surprised at all if it was self-defense on Ms. Musall's part given what we know about the child. So with that, I'm -- I guess making a motion to dismiss this case today.

EX C p.16

COURT OF APPEALS OF NEVADA

THE COURT: It would have been a good defense until we got into the competency eval; so now it makes me wonder whether or not the child should be removed. But we'll leave that to the State and the DCFS case. That's not in front of me right now. We're just looking at criminal.

Brad, you could say, "She was found not competent, and we would like to send her off to Lakes Crossing or somewhere to make her competent and bring her back and see if we can go to trial or this." Or you can dismiss it. Or you can come up with another creative option. What would you like to do?

MR. RICHARDSON: We will move to dismiss this.

THE COURT: All right. Motion is granted.

MS. BOSKOVICH: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you. Good luck to you.

THE DEFENDANT: Thank you, Judge. I appreciate your time.

THE COURT: All right. We'll wait until we have DCFS court and then see if you want to thank me or not. Right now I'm leaning towards we should take that boy away because there's problems in the home.

MS. BOSKOVICH: And if Your Honor wants, we can do a sidebar real quick, or we can wait until DCFS.

THE COURT: We'll wait, because I will forget in three minutes anyway.

MS. BOSKOVICH: Okay.

THE DEFENDANT: But we're a group family, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Good luck to you.

THE DEFENDANT: Thank you.

CRIMINAL COMPLAINT - The Complaint was never served to anyone.

A defendant must be served a copy of the criminal complaint (or a summons in lieu of a warrant) in Nevada, which informs them of the charges and requires them to appear in court. This service is crucial for ensuring the defendant's due process rights are protected by informing them of the accusations against them. The complaint or summons can be delivered to the defendant in person, by leaving it with a suitable person at their residence, or by mail to their last known address. Service of the criminal complaint or a summons is a fundamental requirement in Nevada to protect a defendant's constitutional right to due process.

SUMMONS – Apparently the Summons does not need to be filed in court for a criminal Summons however it does need to be served by an authorized person. This was not served correctly. The Justice Court clerk mailed it to Catherine. Catherine never received it.

In Nevada, a criminal summons does not need to be filed with the court but must be delivered to a peace officer or another authorized person to serve it to the defendant. The summons is served on the defendant by a person authorized to serve summonses, such as a peace officer or professional process server. Service is typically done by personally delivering a copy of the summons to the defendant, or if that's not possible, by leaving it at the defendant's home with a person of suitable discretion or by mail with a return receipt requested.

How Service Works

1. 1. Issuance and Delivery:

   After an indictment or information is filed, the court, the District Attorney, or the Attorney General can request a summons instead of a warrant. The court clerk then issues the summons and delivers it to a peace officer or other authorized person to serve it.

2. 2. Method of Service:

- Personal Delivery: The most common method is for the authorized person to personally hand the summons to the defendant.
- Leaving at Home: If personal delivery isn't feasible, the summons can be left at the defendant's dwelling with a person residing there who is at least 16 years old and of suitable discretion.
- Mail Service: Service by mail is also an option, but requires a signed return receipt to confirm the defendant received it.

3. 3. Who Can Serve:

   The summons can be served by a sheriff or deputy sheriff, or by any person who is at least 18 years old and not a party to the action.

4. 4. Proof of Service:

Ex H p. 30

COURT OF APPEALS
OF NEVADA

After service, the person who served the summons must ensure it is properly returned to the court, though it doesn't need to be filed before the summons is issued.

NONE OF THESE METHODS OF SERVICE WERE CONDUCTED.

BENCH WARRANT ISSUED – a bench warrant was issued for Catherine's failure to appear to the hearing per the Summons. The proof of service doesn't say defense attorney served. It was never served according to the document.

MOTION TO QUASH BENCH WARRANT filed November 9, 2021. September was the arraignment hearing missed. Catherine was never served the warrant.

PAHRUMP JUSTICE COURT – Case and evidence receipt. It only notes "entire case". No evidence documented. According to the evidence clerk when I made contact I was advised evidence was never submitted. This is supported by an email. Also I was advised that pictures had not been attached to the file until 3 months after the fact!

WAIVER OF PRELIMARY HEARING CONDITIONAL – This was not a strategic move. This was her attorney setting her up to assist DCFS.

In Nevada, you can waive your right to a preliminary hearing, which allows your case to move directly to the district court for trial or further proceedings. While "conditional waiver" isn't a formal Nevada legal term for a preliminary hearing, defendants can conditionally plea to some charges while preserving their right to appeal, which is a related concept. A waiver of the preliminary hearing is a significant strategic decision made with a criminal defense attorney, as it means the state doesn't have to prove probable cause to a magistrate, and the defense forfeits the chance to challenge evidence or cross-examine witnesses at that early stage.

What a Waiver Means

- Case Proceeds to District Court:

By waiving the preliminary hearing, your case is immediately "bound over" to the district court for further action, such as a trial.

BINDOVER ORDER - It says Catherine waived her rights to a preliminary hearing for a competency evaluation. HER ATTORNEY NEVER INFORMED US OF THIS. A discussion wasn't even mentioned about an evaluation until July 2022. (We were told in July it was to see if she understood the charges. We didn't think anything of it because Catherine and I both didn't understand why she was being charged either. What we thought and what her attorney did were two different things.)

I happened to read the other day that if competency has been addressed with the court, the proceedings should have been stayed in May 2022. Based on Nevada procedural rules, if your case was "bound over" from a Justice Court to a District Court on May 19, 2022, the District Attorney was legally required to file the formal Information by June 3, 2022.

A filing date of July 8, 2022, would be approximately 50 days after the case was moved, which exceeds the standard statutory deadline

INFORMATION form – Catherine was never served. An Information in a Nevada criminal matter must be served directly to the defendant, although the defendant's attorney can also receive a copy. The Information sets forth the criminal charges, and it is crucial for the defendant to be aware of them through proper service. Service to the attorney is a customary and necessary step for communication and legal proceedings, but it does not replace the requirement to formally notify the defendant of the charges against them. You have 15 days to file the ORDERER SUSPENDING PROCEEDINGS FOR PSYCHIATRIC EVALUATIONS WITH DR. HARDER AND DR. PERLOTTO.

The file did not have the evaluation report of Dr. Perlotto only Dr. Harder. Neither criminal Order was signed or dated by the defense attorney. 178.415, the evaluators have to be certified. No certification attached. For criminal cases in Nevada, Rule 11 of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure (NRCP) is the model for signing documents, and similar requirements exist in other court rules. The Nevada Rules of Criminal Procedure (NRCP) incorporate the motion practice principles and rules of general application for court filings, which include the signature requirements found in the civil rules.

TRANSCRIPT OF 10-10-22 Judge and defense attorney state this was a good defense case until competency got involved. Then defense attorney commented on how this will make it easier on the DCFS side.

MOTION TO DISMISS – due to incompetency.

ORDER TO DISMISS – due to incompetency.

MOTION FOR REQUESTING A COMPETENCY EVALUATION AFTER TREATMENT AND REQUEST FOR HEARING – Filed March 11, 2025.

ORDER RESTORING COMPETENCY DENIED BY JUDGE LANE on May 21, 2025 by FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSION OF LAW AND ORDER STRIKING FUGITIVE DOCUMENT. States any further filings will be suppressed. Very illegal.

THE COURT: Catherine Musall, 22-0098, time and place set for an arraignment.

MS. BOSKOVICH: He, or, I'm sorry, she is not present, but we were actually here on a conditional waiver of preliminary hearing. I was requesting to get a competency eval. on Miss Musall.

And just for the Court's edification, I did reach out to her yesterday. Unfortunately her phone went straight to voicemail. That's not entirely uncommon, especially recently with Miss Musall. I am confident that I can track her down, you know, let her know when she needs to be back in court, and, you know, make arrangements for the evaluation. I do have two orders for two different doctors here, if I can provide these to the court.

THE COURT: That would be fine.

Kirk, what would you like to do?

MR. VITTO: I'm fine going forward.

THE COURT: Ronni, do you want me to order the evals now and then you find her and get her evaluated and then have her come back in in the future after the evals or --

MS. BOSKOVICH: That would be my --

THE COURT: -- do you want me to set a status check to make her show up here for court to get the orders?

MS. BOSKOVICH: No, I can reach out to her. Her sister is also here as well, so I'm confident that between the two of us we can get in touch with her.

THE COURT: Okay. Then I'll order that she get evaluated, and I won't set it for a new date until you get the evals.

MS. BOSKOVICH: Perfect. Thank you.

THE COURT: Unless you need a status check like two or three months from now.

MS. BOSKOVICH: Okay.

THE COURT: Do you, to make sure she's not in the wind?

MS. BOSKOVICH: Yeah, let's do two or three months. I don't care.

THE COURT: All right. So August, September. We'll do a status check on October 10th at 0900 to see how these evals are coming along.

(Thereupon the proceedings were concluded at 11:31 a.m.)
